Family life in England

Hi, my name is Craig. I live in a typical family. I have a father, a mother and a sister and we all live together in a house in the south-eastern part of England.The day starts at 7o'clock when Dad and Mum get up. We get up half an hour later. We have breakfast at 8 o'clock. We all leave the house by 8.30. Dad goes to work. He works with computers. Mum, my sister and I walk to school. My mum takes a bus as she teaches in a different school. I take a packed lunch to school. My favourite subjects at school are Science and History. My favourite topic in History is learning about ancient Egyptians. I also enjoy PE lessons – we play football, netball, cricket.We usually come home at 4 o'clock. Dad gets home at 6 o'clock. We have dinner at 7 pm. I help Mum to wash up after dinner. I also tidy my bedroom. In the evening I usually do my homework before watching TV. Mum sometimes helps me with my homework. On Thursdays I go to karate and my sister goes to ballet on Wednesdays. I am a Cub Scout and I like going camping. I like building fires and cooking on it. It is fun sleeping in the tents too. I enjoy playing on my computer and skateboarding. I have a pet rabbit called Sooty. I bet you can guess what colour it is. Black, of course.

6. Craig lives with his parents and his sister.

7. They have breakfast at 8.30.

The Person I Admire

The person I admire most is my English teacher, Mrs. Brown. She has been teaching for fifteen years, and she always makes our lessons interesting. She doesn't just explain grammar — she tells stories, plays videos, and even sings songs with us to help us remember new words.

Mrs. Brown is very patient. If someone doesn't understand something, she explains it again in a different way. She never gets angry, and she encourages us to speak even when we're afraid of making mistakes. She says that making mistakes is a normal part of learning.

She also cares about our interests. Last month, she asked everyone in the class what hobbies they have. Then she found short texts and videos about those hobbies and used them in our lessons. For example, because I like football, she showed us an interview with a famous football player.

I think Mrs. Brown is not just a good teacher — she is a kind and inspiring person. I want to be as supportive and creative as she is when I grow up.

6.Mrs. Brown has been teaching English for more than ten years.

7. Mrs. Brown only focuses on grammar and never uses videos in class.

8. Mrs. Brown gets angry when students make mistakes.

9. The writer wants to become an English teacher when they grow up.

1. What does Alice look like today?
− Look at Alice. She's all grown up.
− Yes, she looks very different.
− She's beautiful! I remember when she was a little girl she used to have the cutest pigtails.
− Do you remember how curly her hair was?
− How can I forget? The only thing that is the same is her freckles.
− Oh, yes. I love her freckles!

2. What does Sally enjoy doing the most?
− So Sally, how was your weekend? Did you go ice−skating like you said?
− Well, I wanted to go with Ann, but she got sick. Besides, I'm not that fit, anyway. I prefer doing things that are more artistic.
− Oh, mean like painting?
− Well, I find painting really boring. Actually, I'm really interested in song writing.

3. Where did Lori and Kimberly go?
− I had a great time, Kim! Thanks so much for inviting me.
− Well, I'm glad you enjoyed it, Lori.
− And I loved the costumes!
− Yeah, me too! Cynthia Smothers was fantastic! She looked so big on stage in that costume!

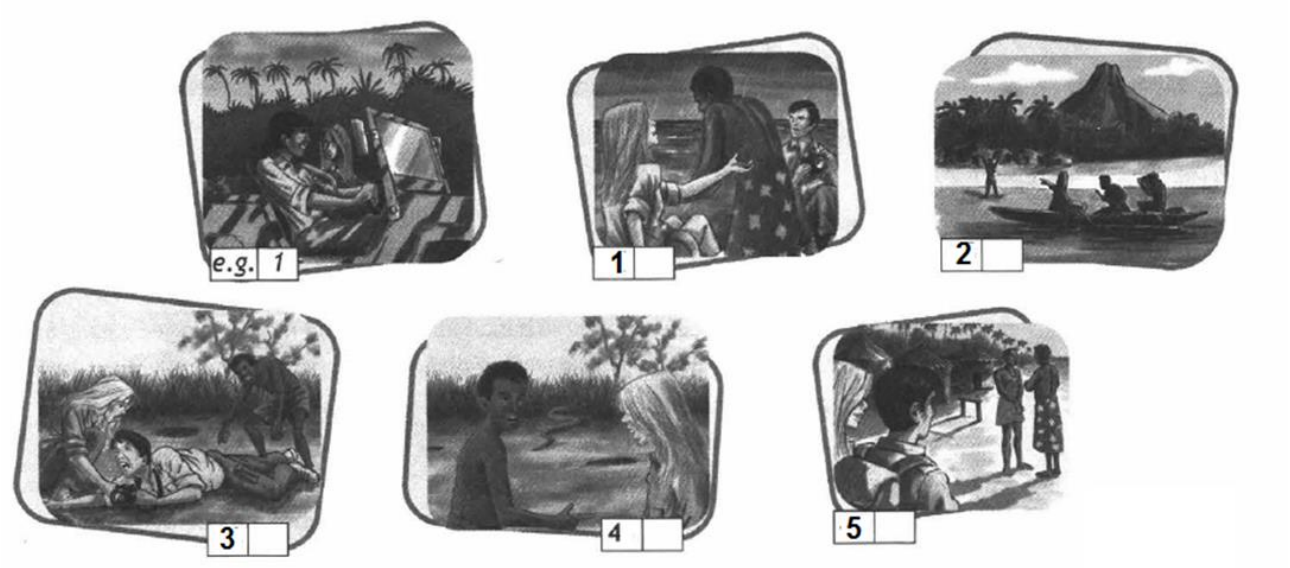

4. What is Annabel's hair like?
− Is that you, Annabel? Wow! I love your hair like that. It looks so much better long.
− Thank you!
− Your hair used to be straight, right?
− Yeah, I got tired of my hairstyle and I wanted a different look.
− Well, curly hair really suits you. You look great!
5. What do Emily and Gloria decide to do?
− I'm so tired of sitting around all day! Why don't we go out? We could see that new play at the Roundhouse. You know, the one that's won so many awards.
− Well… I don't know. How about watching a DVD instead?
− But, Emily, we did that last night.
− Oh, yeah, right. Hm, what about the cinema, then? We could see the new James Bond film.
− OK. Great!

6. Who are Tara and Adam talking about?
− Have you read the article about Philip Smith in the local newspaper?
− Isn't he that famous doctor from Canada who moved to our town last year?
− No! You're talking about Philip Austin! And he wasn't a doctor, he was an astronaut.
− Oh, now I remember! Philip Smith is that young creative artist. He's only eleven years old, right?
− Yes, that's right!

The Princess and the Pea

after Hans Christian Andersen

Once upon a time there was a Prince who wanted to marry a princess, but a real princess. He travelled all over the world to find one, but nowhere could he get what he wanted. There were a lot of princesses, but it was difficult to find out whether they were real ones. There was always something about them that was not as it should be. So he came back home and was sad. One evening a terrible storm came on; there was thunder and lightning, and the rain poured down. Suddenly somebody knocked on the city gate, and the old King went to open it. It was a Princess standing in front of the gate. But, good gracious! She looked horrible because of the rain and the wind. The water ran down from her hair and clothes. And yet she said that she was a real princess. "Well, we'll soon find that out", thought the old Queen. But she said nothing, went into the bedroom, took all the bedding off the bedstead, and laid a pea on the bottom. Then she took twenty mattresses and laid them on the pea, and then twenty blankets on top of the mattresses. On this the princess had to lie all night. In the morning they asked her "How did you sleep?" "Oh, very badly!" she said. "I have scarcely closed my eyes all night. Heaven only knows what was in the bed, but I was lying on something hard, so that I am black and blue all over my body. It's horrible!" Now they knew that she was a real princess because she could feel the pea right through the twenty mattresses and the twenty blankets. Nobody but a real princess could be as sensitive as that. So the Prince took her for his wife, for now he knew that he had a real princess; and they put the pea in the museum, where you may still see it, if no one has stolen it. There, that is a true story.

6. What was the Prince looking for?

a) A magic castle. b) A real princess. c) A golden pea. d) A new country.

7. Why did the Princess look horrible when she came to the gate?
a) Because she was very old. b) Because of the rain and the wind. c) Because she didn't like the King. d) Because she lost her crown.

8. What did the old Queen put on the bottom of the bed?
a) A pillow. b) A blanket. c) A pea. d) A book.

9. How many mattresses did the Queen put on the pea?
a) Ten. b) Fifteen. c) Twenty. d) Thirty.

10. How did the Princess feel in the morning?
a) Very happy and energetic. b) Very badly, she couldn't sleep. c) She felt nothing special. d) She was excited about the wedding.

Dave: This is a fantastic book!

Anne: Really? What's it about?

Dave: Well, it's about Pete and Gillian. He's aphotographer and she's a journalist. They go to Africa to prepare an article about African snakes. They drive to a small village to meet Joe, a local man who knows a lot about snakes. They soon find him, and early one morning, he takes Gillian to a special place and shows her where the snakes live. She is very excited and plans to get Pete and bring him there to take pictures as soon as possible. A few days later, Joe takes them to the same place but a snake bites Pete. Joe is able to cure Pete with special snake medicine. After this, they realise that they still need more information about the snakes. The three of them travel for two hours across the sea, in the rain, to meet a friend of Joe's who lives on a small island. When they finally arrive at the island, Joe's friend greets them and starts talking to Joe in a very serious tone. Pete and Gillian know that something is very wrong. Anne: Go on! What happens next? Dave: I don't know! I haven't reached the end yet!

Healthy Habits for a Happy Life

Many people want to be healthy and feel good. To do this, it's important to have healthy habits. What are these habits?

First of all, regular exercise is very important. You don't need to be a professional athlete. Just walking, cycling, or playing football with friends can help you stay fit. Doctors say that teenagers should be active for at least 60 minutes every day.

Second, eating the right food is essential. A healthy diet includes lots of fruits and vegetables, whole grains, lean meat, and dairy products. It's better to avoid too much sugar, fast food, and fizzy drinks. Instead of a chocolate bar, you can eat an apple or some nuts.

Third, getting enough sleep is crucial. Teenagers need about 8–10 hours of sleep every night. When you sleep well, you feel more energetic and can concentrate better at school.

Finally, it's important to manage stress. Schoolwork can be difficult, but talking to friends or family, listening to music, or doing a hobby can help you relax.

If you follow these simple rules, you will feel stronger, happier, and more successful!

6. How long should teenagers be active every day?
7. What does a healthy diet include?
8. How many hours of sleep do teenagers need?
9. What can help you to relax and manage stress?
10. What will help you stay fit?

Chocolate for All Occasions

1. Chocolate is very popular around the world. Chocolate which is made from cocoa beans was a spicy drink before becoming a food. The first people to drink it were the people of Central America and Mexico thousands of years ago. They also used cocoa beans as a form of currency. For example, you could buy a rabbit for ten cocoa beans and a slave for 100.
2. Spanish explorers brought cocoa beans to Europe in the 16th century, but only rich people could drink chocolate because it was expensive to import the cocoa beans and sugar. People didn't start to eat chocolate until about 150 years ago.
3. Nowadays chocolate isn't only for rich people, but for everyone. Europeans are the biggest consumers of chocolate. Too much chocolate is unhealthy because it contains a lot of sugar and fat, but scientists say that eating a little dark chocolate once or twice a week can help prevent heart disease and lower your blood pressure.
4. You can eat or drink chocolate but you can also use it to run your car! In 2007 a team of British people drove a special truck 4,500 miles from the UK across the Sahara Desert to Timbuktu in Mali, West Africa and their truck ran on fuel made from waste chocolate!
5. Chocolate contains a chemical which your body produces naturally when you fall in love, so it's not surprising that chocolate is a popular romantic gift in many parts of the world.

The Next Chapter: The Future of Libraries

Think of a library and you'll immediately imagine hundreds of shelves with all kinds of books. That image hasn't changed for decades, even though libraries have. Traditionally, libraries were responsible for lending and returning books and other materials, or helping users with their questions about the collection. Today's library is no longer defined by the number of books it has on its shelves, but rather it is now about being a living space for the users. The "relational library" is a new development where libraries become a meeting and interaction place for people. Modern libraries help us find the way we can learn things and enjoy books in the digital age. They offer access (доступ) to books in every possible form and format. Every day, libraries around the world lend their patrons millions of books, e-books, audiobooks, videos, or games. Millions of megabytes of free internet access.

Modern libraries turn into cultural and learning centers for the digital age. Many lend out mobile hotspots. Others offer classes in the latest tech, such as 3D printing, music-editing software.

A lot of useful innovative technologies can be used at the libraries in future. Among them there are big data, artificial intelligence, digital interfaces for printed books, driverless cars and many others.

Libraries are first known as places for learning. Look at the top seven major reasons that attract students and adults to study at the modern library: public libraries offer new study spaces; modern libraries develop creativity; access to technology; unique resources; Wi-Fi, printing and scanning; helpful librarians; study groups.

1. Traditionally, libraries were only used for borrowing and returning books.

2. Today, the main purpose of a library is to have as many books as possible on the shelves.

3. A “relational library” means that the library is a place for people to meet and interact.

4. Modern libraries offer access to books, e-books, audiobooks, videos, and games.

5. Libraries provide millions of megabytes of paid internet access.

6. Some libraries lend out mobile hotspots and offer classes on new technologies.

7. Driverless cars are already widely used in modern libraries.

8. Public libraries are popular among students and adults because they offer new study spaces and access to technology.

9. Librarians in modern libraries do not help users with their questions.

Freddy: So, Ally are you excited about our trip?
Ally: Oh yes, I want to go shopping in London. I've heard that you can find the greatest sales there.
Freddy: Why don't you come on a walking tour of the city with me?
Ally: I don't think so. Why don't you ask Sue?
Freddy: Sue isn't going to be spending much time in the city. She's planning to see the countryside. Maybe, I'll talk to Nathan.
Ally: Nathan is going on a tour of the city by bus. He told me so the other day. He especially wants to see the home of the Royal Family.
Freddy: What about Bob? Do you think he can come with me?
Ally: I know he wants to go to museums and art galleries. Why don't you ask Mark to come with you? He's going to spend all his time in London with a friend who lives there.
Freddy: Excellent! I'll give him a call.

Air in a Can? Seriously?

Do you think the air in your city is polluted? Then you may want to breathe in some pure air from a can. No, this is not an April Fool's joke. This isa real project started by Chinese businessman and philanthropist, Chen Guangbiao. Believe it or not, he has already sold a thousand cans for $0.80 a piece!

They sell such cans in some of China's major cities like Shanghai. Sellers say that the air in the cans is collected from the few areas of China that according to the billionaire, still have unpolluted air. The producer claims (заявляет) that he has come up with a technologically advanced process of canning air.

The user has just to enjoy the fresh air experience. And of course, since the air is compressed inside, people can enjoy it slowly for a long time, even after they have opened the can! The Chinese billionaire has come up with this rather unusual business to try to convince (убедить) the government to help solve the severe air pollution problem.

So the question is, if we all continue to ignore air pollution, will Perri-Air (pure air) be something that becomes a norm in our shopping baskets? Then the cans of it after we have 'drunk' it all will turn into tons of the garbage (мусор). What do you think?

1. The process of canning air is very simple and doesn’t require special technology.
2. The compressed air inside the can lasts a long time after opening.
3. Chen Guangbiao started this project to make a lot of money.
4. The main goal of the project is to convince the government to fight air pollution.
5. The author believes that buying canned air will soon become a common habit worldwide.

Types of Media

A. The term _____ refers to the groups that communicate information and news to people. There are three main types of news media: print media, broadcast media, and the Internet. They spread information to a huge audience, help public education and influence people's minds.

B. _____ The oldest media forms are newspapers, magazines, journals, and other printed materials. Although print media are less popular today than they used to be 10 - 20 years ago, many people still read a newspaper every day or a newsmagazine on a regular basis. The influence of print media is therefore significant. Regular readers of print media are usually more politically active.

C. _____ are news reports broadcast via radio and television. Television news is hugely important in most countries because more people get their news from television broadcasts than from any other source. But many news reports on television repeat news that first appeared in newspapers.

D. Before the invention of television in the 1950s, most people relied on the radio for their news. Many people still listen to _____ every day, especially in big cities when they drive to work and back home. Local news stations have a particularly large audience because they can report on local weather, traffic, and events.

E. _____ has transformed the news media because more and more people are relying on online sources of news instead of traditional print and broadcast media. People surf the sites of traditional media, and also turn to unique online news sources such as weblogs. Websites can provide text, audio, and video information.

A) Ilya Repin was a very successful artist. He was incredibly hard-working, and left a lot of paintings and hundreds of drawings to future generations. Repin did not have one favourite theme. We can see bargemen, high officials, Biblical characters, and tsars in his paintings. Repin was the first Russian artist to achieve European fame using specifically Russian themes.

B) Giraffes are amazing. They are very big and can grow up to 17 feet tall. They live in the wild savannah in Africa. Giraffes eat only plants. They use their long necks and tongues to get to leaves from trees. A typical adult giraffe will eat over 70 pounds of leaves and fruit each day. Giraffes don't need to drink water very often because there is so much water in the leaves they eat.

C) You can see scientific, technological, and mathematical achievements in the London Science Museum. It might sound too serious or even boring. In fact, a trip to the Science Museum is not boring at all. There are a lot of interactive exhibits, flight simulators and an IMAX cinema to make science exciting, There is even a milkshake bar. This is a science lesson you will never forget.

D) If you are fond of animals, you should watch a new story about a dog and a young country boy. The boy was walking in the field near his village and found a dog, which lived in the wild. They became good friends and had many adventures. The story takes place in a wonderful location. You will definitely enjoy a colourful movie and beautiful music.

E) Getting good grades for the test can be quite difficult sometimes. You should plan your time to study the material. You need to find a comfortable place where you can concentrate on learning. You should study the questions and learn the most important numbers and dates. It is also a good idea to find a person who will check your answers.

-- Hi, Betty!
-- Hi, Tony. Nice to see you. Where are you going?
-- I'm on my way to my Singing Club. And you?
-- Oh, I'm going to my French Class now. And I have a Basketball Class in the sports centre in the evening. I need some exercises.
--That's true. And where is the sports centre?
-- It's opposite the hospital next to the cinema.
-- Oh? I've seen it. But it's quite far from school.
- Yes, I know.
- So, how do you get there? Do you walk?
- Well, I used to do it in winter, but now it's warm and I'll go by bike.
- That's a good idea. And how often have you got your Basketball classes, Betty?
- Actually, I go there twice a week. Some children have three classes a week. But now I go there only once a week.
- Betty, I love basketball and I want to join the centre, too.
- You should call the sports centre.
- Do you know the telephone number?
- Yes, write it down. It's 352-281.
- Yes, I'll call them. Thank you.
- You're welcome. Bye, Tony.
- See you soon, Betty.
